

Specifications/Requirements

Novice

- A user who is in need of one-on-one DIY assistance (novice) goes to the home page of the site and can either search for what category of work they need help with, or pick a pre-populated popular category that is on the home page.
- If a category already exists, the user will be taken to a page with profiles tagged with that category. If the category does not exist the user will be taken to a form to create a new category.
- Once a user clicks on a profile to view, they will need to register with login name and password and fill out a form detailing what categories and skills they need help with.
- They will enter on a calendar what times they are available to skype with experts.
- Finally they will upload an image for their profile

Expert

- A user who wants to offer one-on-one help (expert) goes to the home page and clicks on the link in the nav bar that says 'register as an expert.'
- They are then taken to the expert registration page and are prompted to fill in the category(s) they are an expert in, as well as a subset of skills for each category.
- They will enter in their years of experience for each category as well as level of expertise.
- They will enter in on a calendar what times they are available to skype with novices.
- Finally they will upload an image for their profile.

Connection

- Novices will be able to search for experts who have the desired skills and experience.
- They will then be able to arrange a help session.